If the Contractor should refuse or fail to supply adequate workmanship, products, or machinery and equipment for the scheduled supply of the Services, or neglects to supply the Services properly, or fails to perform any of the provisions of the Contract, then the RDCK, without prejudice to any of its other rights under the Contract, may notify the Contractor in writing, that the Contractor is in default of their contractual obligations, and instruct him to correct the default within forty-eight (48) hours.

If the correction of the default cannot be completed within forty-eight (48) hours as specified, the Contractor shall be considered to be in compliance with the RDCK's instruction if it commences the correction of the default within the specified time, and in addition provides the RDCK with a schedule that is acceptable to the RDCK in its sole discretion for such correction and completes the corrections in accordance with such schedule.

If the Contractor fails to comply with the provisions of this section the RDCK may, without prejudice to any other right or remedy they may have, obtain the supply of Services from another supplier and may deduct the cost thereof from the payment then or thereafter due the Contractor, or may without notice to the Contractor deduct the cost from the amount secured under the Contract Security.

4.12 RDCK's Right to Terminate the Contract

If the Contractor should:

- b. fail to make sufficient payments due to their Sub-Contractors, or suppliers, or
- c. disregard laws or regulations that apply to the supply of the Services, or the RDCK's instructions, or
- d. abandon the supply of the Services, or
- e. otherwise violate the conditions of the Contract, the RDCK shall, by written notice, instruct the Contractor to correct the default within forty-eight (48) hours.

If the default is not corrected within forty-eight (48) hours, then the RDCK may, without prejudice to any other right or remedy they may have, terminate the Contract. If notice has been given to the Contractor under section 4.11-RDCK's Right to obtains Services from Other Suppliers, then a further notice and time to correct the default is not required and that in addition to correcting the default RDCK may without further notice proceed to terminate the Contract.

If the RDCK terminates the Contract under the conditions set out above, the RDCK shall be entitled to:

- a. obtain the supply of the Services by whatever method is deemed expedient but without undue delay or expense;
- b. withhold any further payments to the Contractor until the supply of the Services is finished;
- c. upon completion of the supply of the Services, determine the full cost of obtaining the supply of the Services including compensation to the RDCK for this additional service and a reasonable allowance to cover the costs of any corrections required under the guarantee, and charge the Contractor the amount by which the full cost exceeds the unpaid balance of the Contract Price; or if such cost of obtaining the supply of the Services is less than the unpaid balance of the Contract Price, pay the Contractor the difference; or if such cost of finishing the supply of the Services is greater than the unpaid balance deduct the difference from the Contract Security.

It is also understood and agreed by and between the parties to the Contract, that in the event of a strike or lockout of the employees of the RDCK taking place during the term of the Contract, during which the supply of the Services may be interrupted or blocked, that the provisions of the Contract requiring payment by the RDCK to the Contractor shall be renegotiated on the basis of the Contractor's actual proven costs for the period.

It is also understood and agreed by and between the parties to the Contract, that in the event of a strike or lockout of the employees of the Contractor taking place during the term of the Contract, during which the supply of the Services may be interrupted or blocked, that the RDCK shall at its option and without penalty or further payment to the Contractor, have the right to unilaterally terminate the Contract, and to remove the Contractor, their employees and equipment from the Site.

4.13 Contractor's Right to Stop Supply of Services or Terminate the Contract

If the supply of the Services should be stopped or otherwise delayed for a period of ninety (90) days or more under an order of any court, or other public authority, and provided that such order was not issued as the result of any act or fault of the Contractor or of anyone directly or indirectly employed by him, the Contractor may, without prejudice to any other right or remedy they may have, by giving the RDCK written notice, hold the RDCK in default.

The Contractor may notify the RDCK in writing that the RDCK is in default of its contractual obligations if the RDCK, subject to requirements of these Contract General Conditions fails to pay to the Contractor when due, any amount due and owing to the Contractor under the Contract. Such written notice shall advise the RDCK that if such default is not corrected within thirty (30) calendar days from the receipt of the written notice the Contractor may, without prejudice to any other right or remedy it may have, stop the supply of the Services and terminate the Contract.

If the Contractor terminates the Contract under the conditions set out above, they shall be paid for all Services supplied and for any loss sustained upon products and construction machinery and equipment, with reasonable profit up to the time that the Contract is terminated. If the Contractor terminates the Contract this is their sole remedy and the RDCK will not be liable for any additional costs or for any loss of profit following termination.

4.14 Sub-Contractors

The Contractor agrees to preserve and protect the rights of the RDCK with respect to any supply of Services or work performed under the Contract and shall:

- a. enter into Contracts or written Agreements with the Sub-Contractors requiring them to supply Services and perform work in accordance with and subject to the terms and conditions of the Contract Documents; and
- b. be as fully responsible to the RDCK for acts and omissions of the Sub-Contractors and of persons directly or indirectly employed by them as for acts and omissions of persons directly employed by the Contractor.

The Contractor therefore shall incorporate all terms and conditions of the Contract General Conditions into all Sub-Contract Agreements they enter into with their Sub-Contractors, insofar as they are applicable.

The Contractor agrees to employ only those Sub-Contractors proposed by him in writing in Schedule F-Proposed Sub-Contractors, and accepted by the RDCK for such portions of the supply of the Services as may be designated.

The RDCK may, for reasonable cause, object to the use of a proposed Sub-Contractor and require the Contractor to employ another that is acceptable to the RDCK. Under these circumstances, the RDCK will advise the Contractor, in writing, of its objection to a Sub-Contractor. The Contractor shall provide the names of alternate Sub-Contractors for that part of the supply of the Services, each of whom must be acceptable to the RDCK. The Contractor and the RDCK will then agree as to which new Sub-Contractor shall be used.

Nothing contained in the Contract General Conditions shall create any contractual obligation between any Sub-Contractor and the RDCK.

Sub-Contractors shall not further sub-contract any portion of the supply of the Services that is the subject of their sub-contract without prior written approval of the RDCK, which may not be withheld unreasonably.

4.15 Private Land

If applicable, it shall be the Contractor's responsibility to ascertain the boundaries within which the supply of Services must be confined. The Contractor shall not enter upon lands other than those provided by the RDCK for any purpose without obtaining prior written permission of the land-owners and occupiers. A copy of the written permission is to be provided to the RDCK prior to entry upon private lands.

The Contractor shall not enter upon lands owned by others on which the RDCK has easements or rights-of-entry without having received the prior written authorization of the RDCK for such entry. It shall be the Contractor's responsibility to ascertain from the RDCK the conditions on which easements of rights-of-entry have been granted on private lands and to abide by these conditions throughout.

4.16 Dispute Resolution

All claims, disputes or issues in dispute between the RDCK and the Contractor shall be decided by mediation or arbitration if the parties agree, or failing agreement, in a court of competent jurisdiction within the Province of British Columbia. All procedures for the resolution of disputes arising in relation to the Contract shall be governed by the laws of British Columbia, Canada.

In the event that the parties agree to arbitration, the arbitration shall be governed by the rules of the British Columbia International Arbitration Centre, except that the Arbitrator(s) shall be agreed upon by the parties, and failing agreement by the parties, shall be appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction within the Province of British Columbia, Canada.

Arbitration will take place in the Southern Interior of British Columbia and be governed by the laws of the Province of British Columbia, Canada.

4.17 Taxes and Duties

The Contractor shall pay all government sales taxes, customs duties and excise taxes with respect to the Contract including but not limited to any GST or PST. The Contractor is required to identify any applicable tax separately on all invoices and the RDCK is liable to pay this amount to the Contractor. Where an exemption of government sales taxes, custom duties or excise taxes is applicable to the Contract by way of the Contractor filing claims for, or cooperating fully with the RDCK and the proper authorities in seeking to obtain such refunds, the procedure shall be established in a Supplementary Condition.

4.18 Staff Resources and Management

The Contractor shall, at all times during the term of the Contract, have a Supervisor charged with the responsibility of supervising the operations of the Contractor and shall maintain a local office at all times and a telephone staffed during all working hours throughout the duration of the Contract.

Wages and hours of labour employed shall be in accordance with all applicable federal, provincial and municipal enactments. The Contractor shall, at all times, enforce discipline and good order among their employees, and shall not employ on the Site any unfit person or anyone not skilled in the work assigned to them. Upon reasonable notice the Contractor and/or any Sub-Contractors shall provide the RDCK and its internal auditors, external auditors, its regulators and such other entities/persons as the RDCK may designate, with unrestricted access at reasonable times to the data and records relating to the supply of the Services, including but not limited to the Contractor's marketing and sale of the recyclable material, the amounts charged to the RDCK by the Contractor, and the amounts of any commodity value rebates that are payable. Such access will be provided in order to verify the accuracy of charges and invoices for the Services supplied.

4.20 Change in the Services

The RDCK, without invalidating the Contract, may make changes by altering, adding to, or deducting from the Services. The Contractor shall proceed with the supply of the Services as changed and the Services shall be supplied under the provisions of the Contract. No changes shall be undertaken by the Contractor, without written order from the RDCK, except in an emergency endangering life or property, and no claims for additional compensation shall be valid unless the change in writing was so ordered.

If such changes affect the requirements of the Contract, they will be so specified at the time of ordering the changes. The value of the addition or deduction from the Contract Price, and the method of determining such value, shall be by unit prices or combinations of unit prices as specified in Schedule C- Pricing Schedules, or use one of more of the following methods in deciding such value:

- a. by unit prices submitted in the Quote; or

- d. on a force account basis as specified hereinafter.

4.21 Contract Performance Reviews

From time to time as deemed necessary, the Manager may request that the Contractor participate in a Contract performance review. Documented performance arising from such reviews may be used as basis for alteration of the description of Services or suspension/termination of the Contract.

4.22 Rights of Waiver

A waiver of any breach of or provision of the Contract will not constitute or operate as a waiver or any other breach of any other provision, nor will any failure to enforce any provision herein operate as a waiver of such provisions or of any other provisions.

4.23 Duty of Care

The Contractor acknowledges that the RDCK, in the preparation of the Contract documents, provision of oral or written information to Bidders, review of Quotes or the carrying out of the RDCK's responsibilities under the Contract, does not owe a duty of care to the Contractor and the Contractor waives for itself and its successors, and waives the right to sue the RDCK in tort for any loss, including economic loss, damage, cost or expense arising from or connected with any error, omission or misrepresentation occurring in the

The Contractor shall provide the names of alternate Sub-Contractors for that part of the supply of the Services, each of whom must be acceptable to the RDCK. The Contractor and the RDCK will then agree as to which new Sub-Contractor shall be used.

Scope

This Mine Tailings Exposure Control Plan forms part of the RDCK's Health and Safety Program and complies with the requirements of WorkSafeBC and the Occupational Health and Safety Regulations (OHSR). This program is specifically designed to be used for the Utilities department.

Responsibilities

Due to the significant risk posed by respirable tailings, it is critical that all personnel involved in operations that could potentially create tailings dust take specific action to ensure that, as much as possible, a hazard is not created.

The employer is responsible for:

- Ensuring that the materials (e.g., tools, equipment, personal protective equipment) and other resources (i.e., worker training materials) required to fully implement and maintain this exposure control plan (ECP) are readily available where and when they are required.
- Providing a job-specific ECP which outlines in detail the work methods and practices that will be followed. Considerations will include:
 - Availability of all required tools/equipment
 - Control methods to be used
 - Level of respiratory protection required
- Conducting a periodic review of the effectiveness of the ECP. This would include a review of the available dust-control technologies to ensure these are selected and used when practical.
- Initiating sampling of worker exposure to concrete dust when there are non-standard work practices for which the control methods to be used have not been proven to be adequately protective.
- Ensuring that all required tools, equipment, and personal protective equipment are readily available and used as required by the ECP.
- Ensuring supervisors and workers are educated and trained to an acceptable level of competency.
- Maintaining records of training, fit-test results, crew talks, and inspections (equipment, PPE, work methods/practices).
- Coordinating the work with the prime contractor and other employers to ensure a safe work environment.

The supervisor is responsible for:

- Obtaining a copy of the ECP from the employer, and making it available at the worksite
- Selecting, implementing, and documenting the appropriate site-specific control measures
- Providing adequate instruction to workers on the hazards of working with tailings containing materials and on the precautions specified in the safe work procedures
- Ensuring that workers are using the proper respirators and have been fit-tested, and that the results are recorded
- Directing the work in a manner that ensures the risk to workers is minimized and adequately controlled
- Communicating with the prime contractor and other sub-contractors to ensure a safe work environment

The worker is responsible for:

- Knowing the hazards of mine tailings dust exposure
- Using the assigned protective equipment in an effective and safe manner
- Setting up the operation in accordance with the work procedure
- Following established work procedures as directed by the supervisor
- Reporting any unsafe conditions or acts to the supervisor
- Knowing how and when to report exposure incidents

Risk identification, assessment, and control

The RDCK commits to developing knowledge and expertise about these controls, and to establishing policies/procedures to protect workers from harmful exposure and to minimize reliance on respirators. These controls have been proven to reduce airborne dust levels significantly when selected and operated in accordance with best practices. The RDCK utilities team understands that engineering controls alone do not reduce airborne mine tailings to safe levels; so in most cases other control measures, including respiratory protection, will be necessary. The Occupational Health and Safety Regulation direct employers to use the best control technology available for the task and circumstance.

The RDCK will reduce or eliminate worker exposure to tailings dust by selecting a combination of the following controls listed in order of preference:

- Elimination and substitution
- Engineering
- Administrative
- Personal protective equipment

Elimination and substitution

The RDCK recognize the importance of planning the work in order to minimize the amount of dust generated. The RDCK will review historical drawings/studies to determine if tailings may be encountered in an upcoming project and revise alignment if necessary. During a project, if tailings are encountered, they will be tracked, locations logged and soil tests taken to be used for use in future planning in the area.

Engineering control of tailings

- The RDCK/contractor will ensure the operator is aware of the color/consistency of suspected tailings in the area.
- A spotter will be used to identify material as it is excavated and communicate with the operator if tailings are suspected.
- Any suspected tailings exposed to the environment from the excavation will be immediately sprayed with water to reduce potential for tailings to become airborne. These tailings will be continually wetted until they are returned to the excavation.
- An environmental hygienist will be contacted to determine if soil samples are required.
- During backfill, the suspected tailings will be placed into the excavation first (after bedding) followed by a minimum of 30cm of clean material over top. Material to be wetted with water prior to compaction to ensure no dust is created.
- No tailings are to be removed or transported from a site except those sent for testing.
- Operator to ensure that no tailings are left exposed to the elements where they can run off into the environment or dry out and become airborne.

Administrative controls

Employees will follow these safe work practices:

- Establish procedures for housekeeping, restricting work areas, personal hygiene, worker training, and supervision.
- Understand how mine tailings may appear (color, consistency, smell, etc) based on historical studies, reports or anecdotal evidence.
- Assess when tailings dust may be generated and plan ahead to eliminate or control the dust at the source and keep adequate sources of water on site. The RDCK recognizes that awareness and planning are key factors in reducing exposure times.

- Warning signs will be posted to warn workers about the hazards of tailings and to specify any protective equipment required (e.g. respirators).

Personal protective equipment

- Respiratory protection will be selected to protect employees from dust exposure.
- Only NIOSH N95 and P100 respirators will be used.
- Workers who wear respirators will be clean-shaven. Filtering face-piece respirators give little or no protection to workers with beards, and even a minor growth of stubble can severely reduce the effectiveness of respiratory protection.
- All workers who wear respirators will be fit-tested.
- Workers will be properly trained in the use of respirators, and a high standard of supervision, inspection, and maintenance will be followed.

Protective clothing

- Workers will wear a Tyvek 400 one piece suit complete with disposable latex gloves in the event that tailings must be touched, sampled, or the worker must come into continuous contact with the tailings when either wet or dry.
- Suits, and gloves to be disposed of after use and boots to be washed off with continuous spray of water until clean. Workers will not use compressed air to clean themselves, their clothing, or their equipment.

Education and training

The RDCKC will train all workers potentially exposed to airborne tailings dust in the following:

- Hazards associated with exposure to tailings dust
- Safe work procedures
- Use of respirators and other personal protective equipment (e.g., donning and doffing of personal protective equipment, and cleaning and maintenance of respirators)
- Use of control systems
- How to seek first aid (for example, the location and use of eyewash stations)
- How to report an exposure to tailings dust

Records of training will be kept, as specified in the Occupational Health and Safety Regulation.

Safe Work Procedures

High hazard job tasks require detailed safe work procedures to be developed, and made available to all employees performing these tasks. The following tasks have safe work procedures:

- Utilities excavation

Risk assessment and controls table

Acceptable control methods for Utilities Excavation – Tyvek Suit, Respirator, Latex Gloves

- The work methods in the following table are acceptable, provided that the respirator selection, dust suppression, and other controls are adhered to.
- The following control options will be used to eliminate or reduce the risk to workers from the hazards of tailings dust exposure, unless air monitoring information suggests otherwise:

Work activity	Dust suppression	Other controls	Respirator type
Trench Excavation	Not Applicable	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, limit open trench distance, spray suspected soil fines immediately upon exposure	Not Applicable
Trench Backfill	Not Applicable	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, limit open trench distance, spray suspected soil fines as they are placed in trench	Not Applicable
Compaction	Frequent water spray	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, limit open trench distance, spray suspected soil fines as they are placed in trench	N95 single-use respirator or Half-face respirator with P 100 filters (if material is dry and causing dust)
Soil Testing	Frequent water spray	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, don Tyvek suit, gloves and respirator	N95 single-use respirator or Half-face respirator with P 100 filters (if material is dry and causing dust)
Final Raking/Cleanup	Frequent water spray	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, don Tyvek suit, gloves and respirator if construction area is large, dry and windy	N95 single-use respirator or Half-face respirator with P 100 filters (if material is dry and causing dust)
Street Sweeping	Continuous water spray	Barriers (for example, a tape barrier) to restrict access to the work area, use spotter, don Tyvek suit, gloves and respirator if construction area is large, dry and windy	N95 single-use respirator or Half-face respirator with P 100 filters (if material is dry and causing dust)

Safe work planning

- Select one or more of the methods described in the table above.
- Establish a barrier around the work zone to restrict access by unprotected workers.
- Inspect all dust control equipment and tools to make sure they are in good working order.
- Use and maintain all tools and equipment as specified by the manufacturer.
- When working on a multi-employer site, provide the general contractor with a copy of this exposure control plan and safe work procedures. Review the procedures and work schedule with the general contractor to determine if additional measures are required to reduce worker exposure to tailings dust.
- Ensure that workers inspect their respirators before start-up.
- Visually monitor dust release during work. Stop work if excessive dust is observed.
- Ensure redundancy of PPE available for staff (have enough for all staff to use under worst case for 1 week).

Documentation

Records must be kept of the following:

- Worker education and training sessions
- Respirator fit-testing
- Equipment maintenance and repair
- Worksite inspections

The exposure control plan must be reviewed at least annually and updated as necessary, in consultation with the joint occupational health and safety committee.

RDCK Riondel Excavation – Tailings Procedure

Steer Project #1797

April 8, 2025

(p) 250-505-9078

Project Information

Introduction

The RDCK is retaining Prime Contractor for the installation of fiber optics, storm sewer replacement and re-servicing of waterlines to multiple homes in Riondel, BC. The RDCK has recently been made aware of residents having used historical mine tailings from the historical Teck mine for general fill.

The RDCK completed environmental sampling (4 samples), which found elevated levels of lead (peak of 0.5%), arsenic (peak of 0.2%) and cadmium (peak of 0.002%). Support was requested for ensuring public and worker safety is achieved for the excavation tasks to ensure compliance with the BC Worker's Compensation Act and Occupational Health and Safety Regulations.

Location Description

This document applies to the Riondel worksite, along Ainsworth Avenue and Hedley Street.

Safe Work Procedures

Excavation of historical tailings fill

The below procedure is for the required excavation tasks that may expose workers and the public to possible historical tailings that have elevated heavy metals, and potentially other contaminants that have not yet been identified, such as BTEX/hydrocarbons.

Required Equipment and PPE
Equipment	PPE
Communication (e.g., verbal)	Basic (CSA boots, gloves, hard hat, high vis vest type)
Lighting and electrical cable(s)

Pre-Entry
Steps	Task
1.	Pre-job meeting to review scope, review hazard assessment, procedures. Ensure the BC One Call is valid and all drawings reviewed for other buried facilities. Look for overhead powerlines – maintain 10 feet limits of approach for distribution energized lines.
2.	Set-up traffic control in accordance with Figure 1 below
3.	Inspect excavator, PPE and required tooling.
4.	Confirm supervisor and equipment spotter
Work
Steps	Task
1.	Complete excavation activities ensuring: - Spoil pile 0.6m from edge - Ensure setbacks are maintained from any buried facilities - Hand dig where necessary to avoid damage to any electrical or gas lines. - Only 4 feet max vertical cut or shoring cage or sloped or P.Eng. instructions - Set-up ladder for access/egress if 4 feet deep
2.	Caution of carbon monoxide gathering in the trench/excavation from adjacent gas-powered equipment.
3.	If workers are required to enter the concrete manhole, then a qualified person must complete a confined space hazard assessment and develop procedures for safe entry.
4.	Supervisor to stop work if the excavation encounters suspect contaminated sediments and/or hydrocarbon sheens -> report to Steer Environmental for further direction.
5.	Cover open excavations or setup fencing or delineators with danger tape with “danger – open excavation” signs if left unattended overnight.
6.	Apply water to suppress dusts, as necessary.
